NOTICE

John Adams, acting pro se, respectfully notifies this Court of the following with respect to one or more allegations in the Complaint in the above-captioned matter:

On information and belief, John Adams (government name: “Jaideep Singh Chawla”) is not a graduate of Cornell University, having cheated and/or gained an unfair advantage on the Advanced Placement Chemistry examination in high school and improperly being awarded a score of “5” by saving certain chemistry formulas in his Texas Instruments calculator. On information and belief, the invalidation of the credits from the foregoing Advanced Placement Chemistry examination place the undersigned below the total number of credits required for graduation. On information and belief, the undersigned was therefore improperly awarded a diploma by Cornell University in or around the year 2008.

Respectfully Submitted,

/s/ JOHN ADAMS
